Good Evening Sir,

I am writing to you to inform you of my recent health concerns and to gain insight about my missed classes.

I've been hospitalised the past week due to Malaria, so I couldn't attend your lectures for the entire week. I know that we are nearing the end of our semester and that this is a crucial time to wrap up the final parts of our syllabus. Unfortunately, my illness was uncalled for and hospitalisation was a mandate by my physician. But, I am almost fully recovered and will be discharged in the next 2-3 days.

I would appreciate it if you could provide me with the notes and materials of my missed lectures during this past week. I sincerely apologise for the trouble that I'm causing and I promise to maintain proper attendance as well as finish the assigned work of this week.

Thank you very much for your understanding and support.

Warm Regards,
Karthik Reddy
