Hey Avinash,

Hope everything is going smoothly on your part. I'm sending you a quick status update on our Week 4 Anchor Project.

We're done with about 70% of the work. The rest of the team has been cooperative and quite accommodating with requests and support. Bhargav has explicitly stated that he will be off-duty for the entire day, but he has already turned in most of his work and can finish the rest as soon as he comes back. Hrishik has taken up charge of the email drafts. Out of the 7 emails, 4 have been done by him. Mohit is dealing with the github repo and uploading our work as soon as we finish, and I have finished the LinkedIn boilerplate for all of us. We simply need to use it as reference and draft our profile to be professional as required by the assignment. We should be done by tomorrow or Wednesday at the latest.

Please reach back out to me for any concerns.

Warm regards,
Karthik Reddy
